About us

We deliver solutions worldwide, but with a regional and country level focus.

This is reflected in our teams and partner in-depth local understanding with presence in several major geographies globally - which is expanding all the time.

Our solutions are catered around providing the true needs of clients by understanding the specific environments and challenges they are operating in.

Vurke is led by a team of senior executives who have a track record of success in management in several successful high-growth companies.

Our executives bring a unique combination of professional backgrounds from leading enterprise software firms, consulting firms, and human resources management firms.

With presence in the US, Europe, Middle East, Africa and Asia - we can offer a great customer experience.

Message from the CEO

"Vurke is an emerging player in the Software Development and Soft-a-s-Service (SaaS) solutions space. Head Quartered in the US, Vurke is focused on delivering quality software across the Middle East Region and beyond. From SaaS based readymade systems to customized development, Vurke has the experience and depth to deliver projects of any scale.

With our unique business model (software licensed annually) and solid reputation for innovation, Vurke is amongst the leading privately owned software companies. Vurke takes great pride in its corporate culture, which has resulted from the company's strategy with a strong focus on high employee retention and development.

"Innovation and efficiency are the key drivers to success in the IT business, and creativity fuels both innovation and efficiencies."

At Vurke, we go the extra mile for our customers, in order to ensure that our solutions significantly impact the cost savings, efficiencies and processes they are designed to replace. each time, every time"
